Romulus Riggs's EXCHANGE BANKING HOUSE, AND BROKER'S OFFICE.

Bridge-street, Georgetown.
THIS is intended as a permanent establishment, and the convenience in the United States, and of great public utility. At this house the fair exchange on the different bank notes from every part of the nation can at all times be had: It is to be hoped that, by the operations of this office, the community will get rid of a host of Shillings, Shavers, Secret and Running Brokers, who infest the District, frequently proclaiming the failure of country solvent banks, for the express purpose of purchasing the notes of such institutions at great discounts. Business under the following heads will be transacted. This establishment possesses funds to negotiate for any amount, and all business done for cash.
1st. All bank checks, bills at sight, post notes not due, and bank notes from all parts of the United States, bought and sold.
2d. All notes, bills at exchange, dividends and interests, collected and remitted according to orders.
3d. The notes of the United States bank and all of its branches received at par.
4th. Strangers, citizens, and others, may deposit current money for safe keeping—and if left for thirty days, or longer, will receive at the rate of six per cent. per annum for the same.
5th. All business in the line of a money broker promptly attended to for a small commission.
6th. All southern and western traders, bringing to the district large sums of southern and western bank notes, can deposit for safe keeping, and draw for the same as may suit their convenience.
7th. Prompt attention paid to the orders of all respectable brokers and exchange offices throughout the United States—who will please to favor me occasionally with their rates of exchange on bank notes and bills.

Exchange & Broker's Office.

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS.

At his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-street, Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie, and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Gone to the Southward or Westward,

A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia, Deltcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two weeks ago, by a man of the name of Bassett. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

To the Public.

An unusual sensibility has been excited in the minds of our countrymen by the copper plate engraving of the Declaration of Independence, recently published, accompanied by facsimiles of the signatures of those illustrious patriots who framed the document by which our independence was announced to the world. We feel, while we dwell on these signatures, as if we were ushered into the immediate presence of characters so exalted, and we seem for a time to participate in all the emotion which they felt on the approach of so awful a crisis.—Hostile armies, desolate fields, towns and cities in conflagration—carnage and death in its most frightful form appeared in prophetic vision on the one hand, and more than all, the complicated horrors, ignominy and slavery were presented for their acceptance on the other; they deliberated, they paused, they trembled, and at last solemnly appealing to the God of battles, they resolved that the United States were and ought to be free, sovereign and independent. These illustrious patriots, with five solitary exceptions, have now mingled with the common mould—they survive only in their country's glory and in the recollection of a grateful people. But it would be consoling to the present generation, separated from the present generation, to become more intimately acquainted with their revolutionary benefactors. We love to dwell on the features of such men, sketched by the pencil from the bosom of the grave, and to emulate the prominent traits of their biography. Impressed with these ideas, the subscriber proposes, if suitable encouragement is given, to publish the lives of those patriots in numbers, until the whole is completed. The work will be executed in a style not inferior to any European productions, and the portraits by masters of acknowledged merit. The biography will be written by Paul Allen, esq., whose intimacy with the several signers, whose familiarity with the privations and hardships they had undergone, and whose well known talents will be sufficient to ensure the patronage of an enlightened people. In the execution of this work, all that the publisher dares to promise is, that he will endeavor to deserve the confidence of his countrymen, and that no exertion on his part will be wanting to prevent an abuse of that confidence. He requires to assist the assistance of those gentlemen in possession of authentic facts and anecdotes, by communicating the intelligence, that will serve to illustrate the characters and to enrich the biography of those founders of the American Republic.—Those who are in possession of their portraits would enlarge the obligation by a loan of the same.
A prospectus with the terms will be given in a few days.

Laws of the District of Columbia.

In the press, and will shortly be published;
By DAVIS & FORCE,
IN THE CITY OF WASHINGTON.

A COMPLETE CODE OF LAWS

FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

With a copious index, prepared and reported by the Hon. chief justice CRANON, to the congress of the United States, for their sanction; agreeably to the provision of the act of the 29th April, 1816, entitled "an act authorizing the judges of the circuit court and the attorney for the District of Columbia, to prepare a code of jurisprudence for the said District."
The laws by which this District is now governed, can only be found by a reference to the numerous volumes containing those of the United States, of the states of Virginia, and Maryland, and of England—therefore the acquisition of this code (which will comprise the whole in one volume,) must be considered as of the first importance, by all magistrates, gentlemen of the bar, and citizens in general, who have heretofore, experienced the necessity of a work of this description.
A few extra copies will be printed for such persons only as apply previous to the publication of the work.
Gentlemen who wish to be supplied, will please to leave their names at this office.

PURCHASED BY
Oct 24 LAWSON & FOWLE.

The National Register

IS a paper which is published, every Saturday, at the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia, and each number contains sixteen pages octavo, in small but very legible type. It makes two volumes in the year; and every volume is accompanied with a copious index. The price per annum is five dollars, payable in advance. The Public Documents, both foreign and domestic; the proceedings of Congress, and authentic news of every description, are regularly inserted therein, and accompanied by critical and explanatory remarks. Its value is also enhanced by occasional reviews of literary works; and all its sentiments are decidedly American, independent of all party considerations. For this work, which is well established, regularly published, and transmitted weekly to subscribers by the mail, the public patronage is respectfully solicited.

BRITISH TREATY.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a Convention between the United States of America and His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, was made and concluded at London, on the twentieth day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighteen, by Albert Gallatin, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to the court of France, and Richard Rush, their Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the court of his Britannic Majesty; and the Right Honorable Frederick John Robinson, Treasurer of his Majesty's Navy, and president of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations, and Henry Goulburn, Esq. one of his Majesty's under Secretaries of State: fully authorized and empowered by their respective governments: And whereas the said Convention was duly ratified by his Royal Highness the Prince Regent in the name and on the behalf of his Britannic Majesty, on the 2d day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighteen; and by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, on the twenty eighth day of January following: And whereas the ratifications of the two governments were exchanged, in the city of Washington, on the 30th day of the present month of January, by John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State of the United States, on the part of the United States, and the Right Honorable Charles Bagot, his Britannic Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near the United States, on the part of his Britannic Majesty; the Articles of which Convention are, word for word, as follows:

The United States of America; and His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, desirous to cement the good understanding which happily subsists between them, have, for that purpose, named their respective Plenipotentiaries, that is to say: The President of the United States, on his part, has appointed Albert Gallatin, their Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the court of France, and R. Rush, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the court of his Britannic Majesty: And His Majesty has appointed the Right Honorable Frederick John Robinson, Treasurer of His Majesty's Navy, and President of the committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations; and Henry Goulburn, Esq. one of His Majesty's Under Secretaries of State: who, after having exchanged their respective full powers, found to be in due and proper form, have agreed to and concluded the following articles:

ART. I. Whereas differences have arisen respecting the Liberty claimed by the United States, for the inhabitants thereof to take, dry, and cure fish, on certain coasts, bays, harbors, and creeks, of His Britannic Majesty's dominions in America, it is agreed between the high contracting parties, that the inhabitants of the said U. States, shall have forever in common with the subjects of His Britannic Majesty, the liberty to take fish of every kind, on that part of the southern coast of Newfoundland, which extends from Cape Ray to the Ramee Islands on the western and northern coast of Newfoundland, from the said Cape Ray to the Quirpon Islands, on the shores of the Magdalen Islands, and also on the coasts, bays, harbors and creeks, from Mount Joly on the southern coast of Labrador, to and through the Straights of Bellefleur, and thence northwardly indefinitely along the coast, without prejudice, however, to any of the exclusive rights of the Hudson Bay Company: And that the American fishermen shall also have liberty, forever, to dry, and cure fish in any of the unsettled bays, harbors and creeks, of the southern part of the coast of Newfoundland, here above described, and of the coast of Labrador; but so soon as the same, or any portion thereof, shall be settled, it shall not be lawful for the said fishermen to dry, or cure fish at such portion so settled, without previous agreement for such purpose, with the inhabitants, proprietors, or possessors of the ground. And the United States hereby renounce forever, any liberty heretofore enjoyed or claimed by the inhabitants thereof, to take, dry or cure fish, on or within three marine miles of any of the coasts, bays, creeks or harbors of His Britannic Majesty's dominions in America, not included within the above mentioned limits: Provided, however, that the American fishermen shall be admitted to enter such bays or harbors, for the purpose of shelter and of repairing damages therein, of purchasing wood and of obtaining water, and for no other purpose whatever. But they shall be under such restrictions as may be necessary to prevent their taking, drying, or curing fish therein or in any other manner whatever abusing the privileges hereby reserved to them.

Art. II. It is agreed that a line drawn from the most northwestern point of the Lake of the Woods, along the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude, or if the said point shall not be in the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude, then that a line drawn from the said point due north or south, as the case may be, until the said line shall intersect the said parallel of north latitude, and from the point of such intersection due west along and with the said parallel, shall be the line of demarcation between the territories of the United States and those of his Britannic Majesty, and that the said line shall form the northern boundary of the said territories of the United States, and the southern boundary of the territories of his Britannic Majesty, from the Lake of the Woods to the Stony Mountains.

Art. III. It is agreed, that any country that may be claimed by either party on the northwest coast of America, westward of the Stony Mountains, shall, together with its harbors, bays and creeks, and the navigation of all rivers within the same be free and open, for the term of ten years from the date of the signature of the present convention, to the vessels, citizens and subjects, of the two powers; in being understood, that this agreement is not to be construed to the prejudice of any claim which either of the two high contracting parties may have to any part of the said country, nor shall it be taken to affect the claims of any other power or state to any part of the said country; the only object of the high contracting parties, in that respect, being to prevent disputes and differences among themselves.

Art. IV. All the provisions of the convention "to regulate the commerce between the territories of the United States and of his Britannic Majesty," concluded at London on the third day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen, with the exception of the clause which limited its duration to four years, and excepting, also, so far as the same was affected by the declaration of his Majesty respecting the Island of St. Helena, are hereby extended and continued in force, for the term of ten years from the date of the signatures of the present convention, in the same manner as if all the provisions of the said convention were herein specially recited.

Art. V. Whereas it was agreed by the first article of the treaty of Ghent, that "all territory, places and possessions, whatever, taken by either party from the other, during the war, or which may be taken after the signing of this treaty, excepting the Islands hereinafter mentioned, shall be restored without delay, and without causing any destruction, or carrying away any of the artillery or any other public property originally captured in the said forts or places which shall remain therein upon the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty, or any slaves, or other private property;" and whereas, under the aforesaid article, the United States claim for their citizens, and as their private property, the restitution of, or full compensation for, all slaves who, at the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the said treaty, were in any territory, places, or possessions, whatsoever, directed by the said treaty to be restored to the United States, but then still occupied by the British forces, whether such slaves were, at the date aforesaid, on shore, or on board any British vessel, lying in waters within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States; and whereas differences have arisen, whether, by the true intent, and meaning of the aforesaid article of the treaty of Ghent, the U. States are entitled to the restoration of, or full compensation for all, or any slaves, as above described, the high contracting parties hereby agree to refer the said differences to some friendly sovereign or state, to be named for that purpose; and the high contracting parties further engage to consider the decision of such friendly sovereign or state to be final and conclusive on all the matters referred.

Art. VI. This convention, when the same shall have been duly ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of their Senate, and by his Britannic Majesty, and the respective ratifications mutually exchanged, shall be binding and obligatory on the said United States, and on his Majesty; and the ratifications shall be exchanged in six months from this date, or sooner, if possible.

In witness, whereof, the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have thereunto affixed the seal of their arms.

Done at London, this twentieth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighteen.

[L. S.] FREDERICK J. ROBINSON,
[L. S.] HENRY GOULBURN.

Now therefore, be it known, that I, JAS. MONROE, President of the United States, have caused the said convention to be made public, to the end, that the same, and every clause and article thereof, may be observed and fulfilled, with good faith, by the United States, and the citizens thereof.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set [L. S.] my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this thirtieth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and nineteen, and of Independence the forty-third.

JAMES MONROE.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON

Friday, February 5.

The house of representatives affords nothing worth communicating. The strength of Hercules could not squeeze a drop from a dried sponge, nor any talents now extract from the exhausted Seminoles question, a topic of argument worth your printing. The house sat yesterday again with closed doors, and their proceedings would no doubt afford a rich repast to your readers, whether in itself important or unimportant, merely because the subject is a secret—for forbidden fruit is as sweet now as in the days of mother Eve—if it could only be got at, it would be a nice morsel for a moment—but it cannot—until the talismanic veto shall be taken off; and it is not improbable that public curiosity will subside long before that can happen. In the mean time it is whispered, without doors, that the subject is a treaty of some kind or other with the Chickasaw Indians, and that it has created much heat in the house.

A speech made by Mr. Walker, a Ky. member, in defence of gen. Jackson is much spoken of as having afforded considerable amusement. The debate upon that question is expected to continue for another week—the orators have not yet half emptied themselves, they are still pretty full—and, like murder, the whole must out—Heaven help the while!

THE DRAMA.

It was much to be regretted the excellent play of the Honey Moon, drew so thin a house on Wednesday evening. What the cause of this neglect of one of the finest dramas in the English language springs from, we cannot imagine. Is it that the taste of our town has become so vitiated, as only to be satisfied with those ridiculous gewgaws, the principal recommendations to which are their dresses, scenery, machinery, &c. or can it arise from an overstrained moral course of conduct, which teaches them to shun the theatre as the resort of vice and profligacy?—which of these causes it can be, or whether it does not arise from one more arbitrary, we are at a loss to determine.

There is a beauty of sentiment, a purity of versification, together with natural and striking characters, levelled to the common walks of life in this play, which cannot fail to be pleasing. Such has been the approbation of the dramatic world, that it has continued to keep its ground as a standard piece, and like that of the immortal bard of Avon, is suited to the manners of every age.

The part of the Duke was happily and correctly sustained by Mr. Caldwell. We have observed that it is particularly in characters of this description, where there is considerable life and vivacity, that he performs with effect: genteel comedy, and such parts as Duke Aranza, Florina, &c. appear better suited to his talents, than the more deep and difficult characters in tragedy. The female part of the company acquitted themselves with much ability and judgment. We were particularly pleased with Juliana, and the lively and jocose Volante: there is more art than simplicity in this character, and it was well personated. It is hoped the entertainments of this evening may be better attended, and a numerous audience of beauty, fashion and taste give encouragement and patronage, where certainly they are due.

MASSACHUSETTS CLAIM.

LEGISLATURE OF MASSACHUSETTS, JAN. 28.

Agreeably to assignment, the senate took up the report of the committee on the communications of the Hon. H. G. Otis and Prentiss Allen, relating to the Massachusetts claims.

The committee to whom was referred the communication of the Honorable Harrison Grey Otis and the honorable Prentiss Mellen, Senators in Congress from Massachusetts, bearing date December 23, 1818, respecting the claim of the Commonwealth against the United States, respectfully report:

That a resolve was passed by the legislature of the state, on the 12th of June, 1818, in relation to the said claim, requesting his excellency the governor to cause to be delivered to the said senators, or either of them, such accounts, documents and papers, as may be necessary to support the claim of the Commonwealth against the U. States, for the use of the said senators and representatives in congress, from this date; and that the said senators be instructed, and the representatives requested, to attend to, and prosecute the said claim, and to use their best endeavors, that a fair and equitable adjustment thereof may be speedily obtained.

That the committee, after having attentively considered the communication referred to them, from the said senators, and the resolve aforesaid, rely on the good judgment and discretion of the delegation from the state, and their zeal for its interest, that the claim will be duly presented to congress, and its merits developed with equal frankness and ability. And the committee, also relying on the wisdom and liberality of the general government, cannot but trust, that, when the principles and details of the claim are fully and impartially examined, that such decision will be had thereon, as will comport with the soundest principles of justice and equity, and with the best and most permanent interests of the United States, and of the state.

Under these impressions, and from a recurrence to the resolve aforesaid, of the present general court, which remains still in force, and is believed fully to express the wishes of the legislature, that the claim shall be promptly considered and speedily adjusted, the committee deem it necessary at this time, only further to recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, that the secretary of the Commonwealth be directed, on application from the senators of the state, in congress, or either of them, to forward forthwith all documents, or papers, connected with the claim of the Commonwealth against the U. States, which may now remain in any department of this government, and may be requested for the use of the delegation from the state, for the purpose of obtaining a decision on the claim aforesaid; and that the secretary be requested to forward a copy of this report, to the honorable the senators from this state, in the congress of the United States. All which is submitted.

J. LLOYD, Per Order.

The Hon. gen. King moved that the foregoing report be amended previous to the said resolve, by inserting the words following, viz.

Resolved, That by the constitution, congress have power to provide for calling out the militia to execute the laws of the union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions.

Resolved, That the right to determine when the exigencies aforesaid, or any one of them, exist, is, by the constitution and laws of the United States, vested solely and exclusively in the President, for the due exercise of which right he is responsible only to the people of the United States or their representatives in congress assembled.

Resolved, That whenever the President of the United States shall or may decide that any of the exigencies aforesaid do exist, and shall require the militia of this Commonwealth or any part thereof, to be called forth for the purpose of executing the laws of the Union, suppressing insurrection, or repelling invasion, it is and shall be the duty of the Governor of this Commonwealth forthwith to call forth said militia, agreeably to such requisition of the President, and the same when called forth, to place under the command of the President of the United States, or such proper officer or officers as may by the President be designated to take the command thereof.

A discussion was had upon the foregoing amendment, which continued until the hour of adjournment, without taking the question.

Ordered, That when the question be taken upon the foregoing report, it be taken by yeas and nays.

Adjourned to ten o'clock to-morrow.

January, 30th 1818.

The Senate resumed the discussion of the amendment offered by the Hon. Mr. King, to the report of the committee on the subject of the claim of the Commonwealth against the United States. The amendment was supported by the mover and Mr. Parker, and opposed by Messrs. Lyman, Saltonstall, Banister and Noble. The last named gentleman moved to amend the amendment, by striking out all that part which followed the word Resolved, and inserting the following viz:—

"That it is not now necessary for the Legislature to express any opinion upon the constitutional powers of Congress, or the President of the United States, upon the Governor of any state relating to the calling out the militia in any case whatever."

The Hon. Messrs. Quincy, Pickman, and Fessenden spoke in favour of this amendment, and the Hon. Messrs. Moody, King and Parker against it. Upon the question of adopting the proposed amendment, the yeas and nays being required by one-fourth of the members present, were taken as follows:

Yeas.—Hon. Messrs. Quincy, Lloyd, Lathrop, Bartlett, Pickman, Cleveland, Hurrell, Waldo, Lewis, Ruggles, Hoyt, Humphreys, Banister, Saltonstall, Howland, Noble, Ward, Gardner, Williams, Lyman, Ritchie, Gay, Dwight, and Fessenden.—24.

Nays.—Hon. Messrs. Varian, King, Rice, Bemis, Moody, Campbell, Hart, Freeman, Hyde, Williamson, Endicott, Bates, Small, Parker and Sibley.—15.

So the amendment was adopted, and the report as amended was accepted and sent down for concurrence.

POSTSCRIPT.

Half past 12 o'clock.

We have the satisfaction to announce that Joseph Morris, and Pierre Bertrand, two of the mail robbers, were taken this morning by Curtis and Bogart, officers of the police.

Our indefatigable Police magistrates, hearing that persons answering the description of the robbers, had been recently at a house of ill fame at Copleys Hook, dispatched the officers above named to search those places, where these persons were found. On searching them, bills to the amount of one thousand and fifty dollars, were discovered in their possession, the whole of which are supposed to have been taken from the mail. A part of the money, endorsed by O. L. Lawrence, who is now in Augusta, has been identified by Mr. Lawrence's partner, residing in this city.

On their way to the police office, one of the men dropped in the street a package containing bank notes, which was observed and picked up by one of the officers. A small boy also found in the street, immediately after they had passed, a draft for three thousand dollars, and a bank note of one thousand.

Morris's examination closed at a quarter past 12 o'clock, when he was committed to prison. At the time we left the Police office, Bertrand's examination was still going on. It appears that they returned from their "land privateering expedition this morning; and that they had not been two hours in the city when they were arrested. They are undoubtedly two of the three men mentioned in Mr. Marsh's letter above as having been seen in Boundbrook on Monday—and it is probable that they separated on Sumnerville Mountains, and that their companion steered to the south.

Alex's Common Council.

Be it further enacted, That if any person shall at any time, play at any tavern or any other public place, at any game or games whatsoever, except Backgammon, Chess or Draughts, or shall bet on the sides or hands of such as do play, every such person, on conviction thereof, before the Mayor or any Justice of the peace of the county of Alexandria, shall forfeit and pay the sum of twenty dollars to the use of the corporation: Passed in council 15th June, 1816.

BEAUTIFUL CAR, DRAWN BY SWANS.

Attended by Sylphs, Chorus, "Fairy of the Glassy Lake."

The Fairy discovers her art to the Sylphs, by changing the scene, and showing the miniature figures of Ali Baba and his son Gaem, on their way to the forest to cut wood. A miniature figure of Ali Baba's ass, carrying paniers, is also shown.

Scene 3, represents a Wild Forest: On one side a Rude Cave, where the thieves deposit their treasure; in the centre a Large Tree; in the back ground Distant Mountains. Ali Baba and Gaem.

Enter with a real Ass, and begin to cut wood. Song: Ali Baba, "To a woodman's hut." Gaem wounds his hand, and is sent home. While the old man is hewing a large tree, a distant bugle announces to his delighted senses the approach of the robbers of the forest, and he hides in the tree. Two robbers are seen crossing the mountain on horseback; they appear on the stage, & at length giving the signal, a march commences, and the Forty Thieves cross the mountains on horseback.

They appear afterwards on the stage loaded with booty. Chant, "Pronounce the charm." The cave flies open, and part of the thieves enter it with their spoils. Dialogue and chorus, and the thieves march off.

Act II. scene 1, discovers a New Cave. Orebrand seated on his throne, attended by demons. Scene 2, a street: a cobbler's stall on one side, from which enters Mustapha, who sings. Scene 3, a Garden wall and balcony, the exterior of Cassim Baba's house. Forty old jars are seen. Morgiana discovers a diabolical plot to murder the family, and is revenged by destroying 38 of the robbers. Last scene, discovers again the lake, with the Car and Swans as before. Public Sale.

WILL be offered at Public Sale on Friday the 26th of February, if fair, if not the next fair day, that voted Stand at the White Post, now in the occupation of Mr. Geo. Rust. This property has been used as a Tavern alone, at other times as store and tavern; perhaps none better if equal in all the valley between the Blue Ridge and Alleghany mountains.—I won't say as tavern alone, but combined with other business.—It is surrounded by a fertile, respectable neighbourhood, probably not surpassed by any in America; one store at present, and but few Mechanics. The house is large,—from 12 to 18 rooms, with portico the whole length of the house; a good stable connected with a snug little barn, kitchen, and other necessary out-houses.—If this property is not sold, it will be let for a term of years; other houses will be attached if wanted, for this year, which will render it fit for almost any kind of public business; at least, Mechanics, Merchant, and Tavern. No man need apply for it as tavern alone, at any price—therefore, as such it is not offered.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Potomac creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided into lots. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania. I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles; on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental; two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes; bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pollock Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable houses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that he will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.

PROPOSALS.

BY JOSEPH M. SANDERSON, for publishing by subscription, A BIOGRAPHY OF THE SIGNERS TO THE Declaration of Independence, ACCOMPANIED WITH PLATES: To which will be annexed a history of the proceedings of congress during the passage of the law, and the Declaration itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures.

By PAUL ALLEN, Esq.

TO THE PUBLIC.

IT seems a little surprising that amongst so many subjects as have been presented for American Biography, the lives of those who have allied their signatures to the Declaration of Independence have been overlooked or disregarded. The eyes of thousands have dwelt with rapture upon the document that announced to the world that "these United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free, sovereign, and independent states;" while we are better acquainted with the handwriting than with the characters of many of those illustrious men who have added their signatures to that instrument. The founders of the only remaining republic on the globe, have, with a few splendid exceptions, gone to their graves, and it behooves a generous posterity, sensible of their obligations, to preserve their fame. The longer we neglect the payment of so sacred a debt, the more difficult does the payment become.—Traits
